

Clifford A. Culbreath, NACCAS Director of Communications
Extension, 135

Masters Degree in Social Work (M. S. W.), University of Southern California, 1975
Bachelor of Arts Degree in Sociology, University of Southern California 1973
Licensed in the State of California by the Board of Behavioral Sciences as a clinical social worker,
L.C.S.W. (currently license is in inactive status) 1979 to present.

Clifford A. Culbreath has been the Director of Communications for the National Accrediting Commission of Career Arts & Sciences, Inc. (NACCAS) since May, 1993. He has over 23 years of managerial experience. He is day to day manager of organization's communications, editor of the organization's national newsletter, the NACCAS NOW. Responsible for developing and improving public relations, public affairs, promoting and disseminating information through trade shows, the written media, and on the NACCAS website. Prior to joining NACCAS he spent 15 years as a clinical social worker with increasingly responsible positions in supervision, management and community service. He was an Associate Adjunct Professor – Field instructor for the graduate school of social work for the University of Southern California and the University of California, Long Beach from 1989 to 1993.