Dear School Owners and Other Interested Parties:

Enrolling new students can be an exciting time for many! With a new batch of excited and eager students, a rejuvenating energy known as "enrollment fervor" may encompass many schools. Teachers and administrations are eager to welcome students and prepare them to go into the workforce. The only downside to "enrollment fervor" can be that many schools get too engrossed in welcoming their new students, and forget to make sure all of the necessary pre-enrollment/admissions documents are completed. But, have no fear!

Join Blaine and Danielle as they host the Pre-Enrollment/Admissions Webinar. This webinar is recommended for school owners, school directors, school administrators, schools admissions officials, and any other school personnel that may play a vital role in a school's accreditation and admissions process.
